

Treasure in the caves

Author: Lovleen Misra

Illustrator: Priya Kuriyan

Translator: Swagata Sen Pillai

One cave here, one cave there, Tunnels of wind and air.

Cave one and cave two Take air in and out of you

First, stick your finger
in there
Let it roam everywhere

Side to side, let it wiggle
Now, give it a little jiggle

Dislodge it from that dark jail.
Dig deeper. Use your nail.

If the treasure is wet,
dry it Roll it between your fingers. Try it!

Chuck it once the flakes
are dry Don't be scared, don't be shy.
Old and young. Women and men.
Everyone wants to explore this den.

It's after all your nose, so dig, dig, dig it,
Why should anyone mind
it?
But remember, do take care,
Don't let anyone know
the treasure's there!

And if you are in a hurry, don't you worry here,
Just stick it, squish and squash it, anywhere!

Treasure in the caves

(English)

Why are our fingers perfectly designed to fit in our nostrils? Why do we like to explore the two dark caves on our noses? Let's dig a little deeper in this hysterical poem.

This is a Level 1 book for children who are eager to begin reading.

Pratham Books goes digital to weave a whole new chapter in the realm of multilingual children's stories. Knitting together children, authors, illustrators and publishers. Folding in teachers, and translators. To create a rich fabric of openly licensed multilingual stories for the children of India and the world.
